VENZUELAN DISPUTE

It Will Soon Be Settled by Arbitration.

ALL ARRANGEMENTS ARE MADE.

Great Britain and Our Government Will Unite in a Commission, in Which King Oscar of Sweden Has Been Selected as the Fifth Member—Other Terms of the Proposed Settlement.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 11.—The King of Sweden and Norway, Oscar II, has been chosen by treaty between the United States and Great Britain as the fifth or final arbitrator of the Venezuelan boundary question. The other arbitrators, four in number, are to be designated, two by the lord chief justice of England and two by the chief justice of the United States.

KING OSCAR.

This is the final and most important feature of the treaty for the complete adjustment of the long-pending Venezuela controversy. The treaty was concluded in Washington Monday night, at the British embassy, Sir Julian Pauncefote representing her Britannic majesty and Secretary Olney the United States. Since the return of Sir Julian from London, three weeks ago, negotiations toward a final settlement have been proceeding. Most of the meetings were of such an important character that they were held either at Mr. Olney's residence or at the British embassy, the two houses being but two blocks separated.

It happened that the concluding meeting was at the embassy Monday, and special interest was given to it from the fact that Lord Salisbury, the British premier, was to make a speech at Guild hall, London, in the evening. It is an annual event at which the premier usually takes occasion to review the status of the most important international questions. For this reason it was desired, if possible, to acquaint Lord Salisbury of the final and satisfactory adjustment of the Venezuela question in order that he might make such announcement as he thought fit concerning it.

When Mr. Olney and Sir Julian reached their final conclusions, a telegram was at once dispatched to Lord Salisbury, notifying him of the result. It reached him within one hour of the time when he went on the platform at Guild hall, and it was the basis for his announcement to England and to the entire world that the Venezuelan controversy was settled. It was a general announcement without detail and without any reference to the personnel of the court of arbitration.

Thus Washington and London participated in this eventful scene by which the two leading English speaking nations reach an amicable means of adjusting the most troublesome international question of recent years. Although Lord Salisbury's statement was without details it is possible to give all of the essential features of the treaty concluded in Washington Monday night. The main point, as already stated, is that King Oscar II, whose full title is "King of Sweden and Norway, the Goths and Vandals," is the fifth or decisive arbitrator. It was deemed best to make this choice rather than to leave it to the selection of the other four arbitrators. The latter are assured of being men of eminent judicial attainment, as their choice is left entirely to the judiciary of the respective countries.

The other essential features of the treaty is that 50 years actual possession is to constitute title. With this limitation as to the settled districts, the entire sweeping of the Venezuela boundary is placed in the hands of the court of arbitration.

The treaty covers only Venezuela and the question of general arbitration between the United States and Great Britain is left to future negotiations.

As a king seldom leaves his country, except on state visits to other sovereigns, it is not expected that King Oscar II will go outside of Sweden for the meeting of the arbitrators and the court is likely to sit at Stockholm, the capital of Sweden, where King Oscar's palace and the halls of the Swedish riksdag are located.

The choice of King Oscar appears to have been a most fortunate one, as he is universally regarded as a man of great attainments, of judicial temperament and of eminent fairness. Among the monarchs of Europe he is probably the most popular, as he goes freely among the people and is thoroughly democratic in his ways. The feeling entertained for him is shown by the fact that the Scandinavian residents of the United States are at present raising a large sum with which to buy him a present on the celebration of his 65th birthday.

He is known also as "The Giant King," as he stands 6 feet 3 inches in height, towering above most men and a central figure among all assemblages. He comes from noble stock, being the grandson of the French Marshal Bernadotte, who is considered first among the marshals of France, and, save Napoleon himself, undoubtedly the greatest character upheaved by the French revolution. When in 1810 the last of the Vasa line of kings was childless on the throne of Sweden, the riksdag turned their attention to Napoleon's generals, who were then victoriously sweeping over all Europe. In August, 1810, the riksdag unanimously elected Bernadotte as crown prince of Sweden, and on the death of the reigning king Bernadotte succeeded to the throne.

The present king was reared as a sailor and as he had two elder brothers, it was not expected that he would reach the throne. He became commander of the Swedish navy, and on the death of his two elder brothers became the crown prince, and thereafter, king. While a prince, at the age of 29, he made a tour of Europe and met the lovely Princess Sophie of Nassau, then but 20 years old. A union followed which has been blessed with four sons, Gustaf, Oscar, Carl and Eugene. Gustaf is the present crown prince. All of the sons take after their father and are famous throughout Europe for their gigantic size, being above six feet.

King Oscar has long shown a most cordial sentiment towards the United States and this doubtless had a part in his selection.

General Thomas, U. S. A., and his brother, Hon. W. W. Thomas, late United States minister to Sweden, gave interesting accounts of the king's cordiality toward America. At an audience at Stockholm King Oscar asked with especial interest of General Thomas concerning American affairs, particularly inquiring as to the Greeley relief expedition, the status of the Mormon question, dynamite plots, Ericsson monitors as an implement in future warfare, the condition of the negroes of the south and their future, and the character and bent of the American people.

General Thomas gives the following pen picture of the king: "A middle-aged gentleman, dressed in a double-breasted frock coat of black diagonal and pearl gray trousers, with full beard and dark hair just beginning to turn gray, carrying his 6 feet 3 inches with a grace and activity that, were he an utterly unknown man walking down Broadway, would cause many to turn and look at him."

STOPPED THE DISCUSSION.

Boiler Explodes While Surrounded by People Talking Politics.

LEXINGTON, Ky., Nov. 11.—The boiler of Roderick Baker's steam mill in Perry county exploded while a number of the people living in the neighborhood were sitting nearby discussing politics.

The dead are: Roderick Baker, skull crushed. Jack Francis, neck broken. The injured are: James Crow, arm broken. Bud Harper, scalded. Dick Harris, scalded and head cut. Dave Crowder, leg crushed. Mason Fallon, foot mashed. Samuel Clark, scalded. Three others were hurt slightly by flying timbers.

Three People Burned to Death.

PERRINTON, Mich., Nov. 11.—The residence of Sandy Campbell, four miles southwest of this place, burned to the ground yesterday morning, burning to death Mr. Campbell's cousin, a youth 10 years of age; also Mr. Campbell's two children, aged 2 and 6 years. One child escaped by jumping from a window.

Murder and Suicide.

NEW YORK, Nov. 11.—John Rogers, a coachman employed by Richard Brandies, at White Plains, killed William Smith, a man who worked about the place, some time during Monday night, and yesterday, after attempting to kill Henry Weiss, coachman for Gustav Brandies, blew out his own brains with a shotgun, the weapon with which he slew Smith. There was no known motive for the murder and suicide and the theory is that Rogers was insane. The tragedy took place on the country place of the Brandies brothers.

TWO FIENDS IN MASKS

An Aged Couple Horribly Tortured by Robbers.

BURNED WITH LIGHTED MATCHES.

One of the Victims in a Critical Condition and May Not Recover—Attempt to Burn an Asylum—Spiteful Firebugs—Election Returns Delayed Opening Up of New Mines—Other Ohio State News.

COLUMBUS, O., Nov. 11.—A case of robbery and terrible torture is reported at police headquarters. The home of Robert Rasin, a gardener living three and a half miles north of the city on the Huron road, was entered by two masked men Monday night. They found Rasin and his wife in bed. In response to a demand for money Rasin told them where they would find $20, all the money he had in the house. They would not believe this was all he had, and binding both Rasin and his wife, the robbers tortured them by holding lighted matches to their feet and other portions of their bodies.

The agony suffered by Rasin and his wife was so intense that they implored the robbers to shoot them and put them out of their misery, and after they had tortured them in this way for fully a half hour, the robbers took their departure, satisfied that if the couple had any more money they would have disclosed its whereabouts. Rasin's condition is critical. The wife told the story of the robbery and terrible torture.

SPITEFUL FIREBUGS.

They Start a Flame That Caused Much Damage and Pain.

SPRINGFIELD, O., Nov. 11.—Word was received here yesterday of the destruction by fire at 1 o'clock in the morning of the residences six miles out on the Robert pike of Mrs. Ida Getz and Floyd Redfogal. The former's had just been built. Everything was destroyed and the two families escaped in their night clothes. Loss $3,000, with no insurance.

The two property owners had just seen an insurance agent, but had not taken out policies.

Mr. Redfogal, while on a ladder, fell and broke three ribs.

An investigation made showed that incendiaries had started the fire in the house by piling hay in the garret and lighting it. Detectives are working. Spite work is the supposed cause.

ATTEMPT TO BURN AN ASYLUM.

Half-Witted Inmate of the Building Supposed to Be Guilty.

PORTSMOUTH, O., Nov. 11.—It has just been learned that an attempt was made Sunday night to burn the infirmary of this county. Superintendent Wislon on making his rounds of the buildings late at night scented the burning of rags. Investigation found in one wing of the building a pile of rags and paper saturated with carbon oil. The walls and floor of the building were also covered with oil.

The fire had evidently not been started long, as it had not gained much headway and was soon extinguished. The guilty party is supposed to be a half-witted inmate of the building. She has for some time had a fancied grievance against the superintendent and it is suspected she took this plan to get even.

Election Returns Delayed.

COLUMBUS, O., Nov. 11.—Only a few more than one-half of the counties have made their returns to the secretary of state, and it will be impossible to state with accuracy the vote of the state until all have reported. Meantime it is estimated that McKinley's plurality will be about 52,000. Complete returns will probably be in by the latter part of the week.

Artisaner Is Dead.

AKRON, O., Nov. 11.—Martin Artbauer, who was shot by Mathias Rybincak Oct. 26, died yesterday of his wounds. Rybincak accused Artbauer of invading his home. He is in jail.

New Mines Will Be Opened.

MASSILLON, O., Nov. 11.—There is every probability that the coming winter and spring will see the Massillon coal field operated with great activity. New mines will be opened.

OHIO COAL CARRIERS.

Rates Ruinously Low and Will Probably Be Increased.

NEW YORK, Nov. 11.—A meeting of the bituminous coal producing and carrying companies in the Ohio districts was held yesterday at the Trunk Line association rooms at which the following companies were represented by their presidents and managers: Hooking Valley, Pennsylvania railroad, Wheeling and Lake Erie, Baltimore and Ohio, Columbus, Sandusky and Hooking, Cleveland, Lorain and Wheeling, and the Toledo and Ohio Central.

The meeting was entirely harmonious and it was generally agreed that the present rates for bituminous coal and transportation charges were ruinously low and to the great disadvantage of producers, carriers and miners. In a general way the meeting favored an agreement as to coal prices and transportation rates to last over a period of three years. The details will be settled at a series of other conferences.

A meeting was also held of the representatives of the companies interested in soft coal business in the Clearfield region, and a partial agreement as to coal prices and rates was reached. The roads interested are the Norfolk and Western, Chesapeake and Ohio, Baltimore and Ohio, Beech Creek and Pennsylvania railroad.

HERO IN RAGS.

A Tramp Saves an Express Train From Being Wrecked.

WASHINGTON, Ind., Nov. 11.—A ragged tramp, G. C. Byrum, proved himself a hero yesterday morning and by his act of bravery saved a fast express train and many lives.

An attempt was made at 1 o'clock by robbers to ditch the westbound St. Louis express on the Baltimore and Ohio Southwestern railway in a lonely stretch of country east of this city.

The express car, it is reported, contained a large amount of money.

A heavy charge of nitroglycerin and dynamite was placed upon the track in such a way that it would explode when struck by the engine. There was enough explosive to tear a great hole in the ground, destroy the track and derail the express and mail cars.

A tramp discovered the nitroglycerin and the five sticks of dynamite, and at once guessed the purpose for which they were placed upon the track. He had no way to signal the express train, which he knew would be due in a short time. It was some distance to the nearest switch, but he made his way there and jerked off the signal light. Then he made his way back to the place where he had discovered the dynamite.

His signal was seen by the approaching train in time. The train wreckers, who were in ambush, also saw the signal, and a volley of shots were fired at the tramp. He was wounded in the leg, and a shot through his hat grazed his head.

Trainmen were unable to find the robbers, and the local authorities have thus far been unable to secure a clue which will lead to arrests. The country, however, is being scoured.

After the explosives were removed from the track, the train came to this city, bringing the wounded tramp. The 200 people who were on the train crowded about him, and praised him for his brave deed. Later a subscription was taken up for his benefit.

Byrum's home is in Baltimore. The Washington police are working on a theory that he was one of the gang of robbers, but that as the train approached, his heart failed him, and he gave the warning signal to the engineer. As he did so his confederates shot at him, the police think.

Another theory, generally scouted, is that the tramp placed the dynamite upon the track, shot himself, and stopped the train, merely to receive a reward.

RAN INTO A LANDSLIDE.

Express Train Wrecked on the Northern Pacific Railroad.

MISSOULA, Mont., Nov. 11.—Express train No. 1, the Pacific mail on the Northern Pacific railroad, was wrecked three miles east of Plains at 10:55 o'clock yesterday. The accident was caused by a landslide into which the express plunged upon rounding a curve. The engine was thrown over on its side and four coaches were derailed, but were not badly damaged.

George Fairchild of this place, the engineer, was instantly killed and Frank Waldon, the fireman, was seriously, though not fatally injured. The mail clerk, baggage man and express messenger had narrow escapes, but were only slightly bruised. Not one of the passengers was injured. Traffic was delayed the greater part of the day, but was resumed yesterday evening.

DYNAMITE EXPLOSION.

One Man Killed and Half a Dozen Others Slightly Injured.

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 11.—One man was instantly killed and half a dozen slightly injured by the explosion of a 16-pound can of dynamite at Germantown yesterday. The dead man was an Italian known as Tony Brown.

Brown had built a fire in his shanty and it is supposed a spark ignited the dangerous explosive which was to have been used in blasting for a sewer.

Thomas Sweeney, a blasting boss, and Contractor A. B. McNeill, who were standing near the cabin, were considerably bruised, as were also four of the Italian laborers.

KILLED BY A BEAR.

The Rev. J. D. Mentor Lost His Life in the Mountains.

TROY, Mon., Nov. 11.—The Rev. J. D. Mentor of this place has lost his life in a desperate encounter with a bear in the mountains near here. He had been out with a hunting party and separated from them during the morning.

At night he did not return, and becoming alarmed, his companions started out to search for him. His hat was found in the snow. Blood was seen, and evidences of a terrible battle with a bear were found. Following the trail the dead and lacerated body of the young minister was found about 100 yards away.

Gold Reserve Increased.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 11.—The treasury yesterday lost $7,600 in gold coin and $42,600 in bars, which leaves the true amount of the gold reserve $122,234,315. The net gain in gold yesterday was $519,000.

Not Yet Decided.

ATLANTA, Nov. 11.—The Democratic caucus for United States senator adjourned last night at the conclusion of the 23d ballot.

THE MINNEAPOLIS AT SMYRNA.

She Reaches That Port Just in Time to Aid a British Vessel, With Armenian Refugees on Board, to Sail Out of Port and the Hands of the Turks—The Latest Armenian Massacre.

NEW YORK, Nov. 11.—The World this morning says: The steamship Boyne of the Mercantile Steamship company of London has arrived in port from Gibraltar and Mediterranean ports. Captain Fischer told a remarkable story to Collector of Port Kibbreth and others, as to why he had entered port without a manifest. His ship lay at anchor off Smyrna, Turkey, in Asia, on Oct. 10. There had been several riots in Smyrna for three or four days and the din of another conflict and the cries of the victims of the assassins came over the waters that evening. A small boat came up and an aged man begged permission to go aboard. With him were six others, three of them women, all Armenian refugees. Captain Fischer ascended and in order to be on the safe side the refugees were registered as passengers.

Not long afterward a boat load of Turks came aboard. Captain Fischer refused to deliver the refugees. The Turkish officer said he would give the Britisher until the morning to turn over the Armenians. Captain Fischer sought assistance. An Italian man of war refused to interfere. When dawn came, the United States warship Minneapolis came into the bay. The British flag was sent swinging out upside down, and the Minneapolis lookout saw the signal of distress. Captain Fischer told his story and Admiral Thomas O. Selfridge Jr., commandant of the European Squadron said: "We'll give you all the assistance you want. You'll take these refugees safely out of this port if I've got to bombard the town," and the admiral ordered off the barge with a detail of marines and blue jackets over to the British ship with orders to hold her safe from attack.

Then the American consul was sent for and it was agreed that the Boyne should sail at once under the escort of the Minneapolis. Soon bloody Smyrna was many miles behind, but the captain had forgotten his manifest.

The Armenians were landed at Ellis island.

One Hundred Armenians Killed.

CONSTANTINOPLE, Nov. 11.—The reports in circulation here on Thursday last that a massacre had occurred in an Armenian village near Kaisarick, and that 60 persons had been killed, were not exaggerated. On the contrary, the affair turns out to have been more serious than at first announced. The massacre occurred in the village of Eynek, 100 persons were killed and nearly all the Armenian houses were pillaged.

Three Hundred Killed.

LONDON, Nov. 11.—The Daily News' Constantinople correspondent says: The Eynek massacre lasted from noon on Friday, Oct. 30, till Saturday night, when it was stopped by the troops from Cesarea (Kaisariak). The Armenians say that 300 persons were killed.

NAPHTHA EXPLOSION.

Three Men Fatally and Two Others Badly Injured.

WEST UPTON, Mass., Nov. 11.—An explosion of naphtha in a retort used in connection with a water gas plant at the strawboard factory of William Knowlton & Son of this town yesterday afternoon will result in the loss of three lives. The fatally injured are:

Fred C. Bulmahan, superintendent of the Western Water Gas Construction company of Fort Wayne, Ind., aged 23 years.

Thomas Williams, aged 30, of Upton. John Williams, aged 27, of Upton.

The injured are: Charles Nelson of Upton and James Salham of Worcester. Mr. Bulmahan had just completed the installation for William Knowlton & Son of a water gas plant at the cost of $25,000. This being a country town, the plant was lighted in part by gas made at the neighboring town of Grafton. Mr. Bulmahan was testing the plant when a naphtha valve sprung a leak and the fluid ran down upon a heater. The naphtha ignited and an explosion instantly followed shattering the windows and tearing a hole in the roof.

The time to brace up and be jolly is when everything is going wrong and you are away down in the mouth with the blues. There is no need to make an effort to be cheerful when all goes well with you, and it is no credit to you to be cheerful then.

It is to be hoped that before another presidential election the cause of political education will be sufficiently advanced to enable all citizens alike to comprehend that eggs are not arguments.

THE CONGRESSIONAL ELECTION

Pugh's Majority Put Down at 421, But the Exact Figures Are Less Than 300.

Complete returns from this district shows the following vote for Congress:

Majority..... 121

In the above figures Mr. Thomas' vote in Boyd County is put down at 1,275, when he received 127 more votes than that, or 1,405. By an oversight of the election officers in the precinct where these votes were cast, the figures were omitted in their certificate. The Canvassing Board did not count the 127 votes in footing up the result. So that Mr. Pugh's majority instead of being 421 is really only 294.

In this connection the following, taken from the Catlettsburg Democrat, is self-explanatory:

NOTE.

We, the undersigned officers and inspectors of the Second ward of the city of Catlettsburg, Ky., hereby certify that at the election held in said ward on the 3rd day of November, 1896, W. LaRue Thomas, Democratic nominee for Congress, received 127 votes.

And we further certify that in filling out the certificates of the votes cast and counted in said ward, the 127 votes recorded for said Thomas were, by mistake, left out of said certificates, and were not counted for said Thomas by the County Canvassing Board. That said votes being counted, Pugh's majority would have been 127 votes less than his certified majority in this county.

NUTRITION IN FLOWERS.

How They May Be Used For Food as Well as Beauty.

The use of flowers for food was a novelty in our matter of fact country under our so called newer civilization when Mrs. Cleveland took up the graceful custom of serving flowers in salads. In truth, this is but a small part of the use that can be made of flowers as food.

If our ambitious housewives in the semitropical regions of the South of California and Florida would crystallize their orange blossoms for the northern market, they would do a good business. There is always a steady demand for the French candied flowers. When the violets of Grasse, France, are grown, all the old and state violets are sold to manufacturers of confectionery. In Roumania violets, roses and lime flowers are utilized largely for flavoring preserves of different kinds. The most esteemed sherbet in Egypt is prepared by pounding violets and boiling them in sugar. This violet sherbet is of a green color and is called the "grand signor's sherbet."

Rosebuds boiled in sugar and made into a preserve are eaten by Arabian women. Rose petals are candied like violets, and so likewise are jasmynes. The common, yellow pond lilies make delightful preserves, and from them the Turks prepare a cooling drink. These flowers have a perfume like that of brandy and hence are sometimes called "brandy bottles."

The petals of roses thrown upon cold light wine float away from the lips in drinking. Every lover of cool and fragrant beverages knows the luxury of plunging the heated face into a bunch of fragrant green mint.

A scientific publication recently said that by means of musical vibrations forms of flowers and trees can be produced upon sand and semi-liquid substances. Imagine the pleasure of seeing the image of a flower grow to the sound of musical notes while one enjoys the delicate flavor and odor of the daintiest of nature's products.

All flowers of pleasant flavor and semi-solid substance, like the camellia and orange flower, can be used in salads, preserves and sweet fritters.

Not only must the form and flavor of foods be considered, but also the nature of the elements they bring into the system, the proper proportion of chemical substances and their laxative or constipating nature, for we do not require of either too concentrated or too bulky a nature. It requires also a due admixture of foods. Thus pure albumen is not desirable. We may be made to starve on cheese. Experiments as to the relative solubility of animal and vegetable albumen, even if correctly conducted, may be in the highest degree deceptive.

The amount of albumen which we daily require is relatively small and needs a large quantity of respiratory food to be taken with it. The latter is of various kinds, which differ very much in the rapidity of their action. For instance, starch is slow and alcohol is quick in producing its effect as a supporter of combustion. If more albumen be taken than is required, the excess is necessarily not digested. Nature takes what she requires and leaves the rest.—Juliet Carson in New York Flowers.

PUBLIC SCHOOLS.

Effect of the New Compulsory Education Law on the Attendance.

An Increase in This County From Various Other Causes—Comments of Superintendent Blatterman.

The County Superintendent was, with the opening of schools generally September 8th, much interested to discover what effect was produced by the new "compulsory attendance" school law in Mason County, and especially as the State Superintendent's office was flooded with accounts of the wonderful results in other counties. So he noted carefully as he visited each school the effect, if any, of this law. It is hardly a fair test, however, to take Mason County as an example, because no doubt illiteracy exists in smaller degree in this county than in the interior counties and those lying southeast and south of the 36th parallel.

Independently, to a great extent, of compulsory laws, the enrollment in the public schools of the U. S. has steadily increased each year since 1870; that is, there were enrolled in the public schools in the U. S. about double the number of children in 1891 than were in 1870—or about 14,000,000. In Kentucky there were enrolled in 1870 178,457 and in 1891 467,451, which is a large increase.

But we must confine our observation to Mason County, or we may be too voluminous. The attendance of school children this season is very encouraging, and probably attributable to natural causes, such as—

First, The fine open season, rendering it a pleasure as well as an easy thing to go to school.

Second, The number of new and attractive school houses. Very reasonably the children are interested more in a handsome, attractive house, well lighted and ventilated in warm weather and kept comfortably warm in cold weather, with comfortable desks, charts, maps, globes, good supply of drinking water close at hand,—all these are undoubted influences for good.

Then there has been a steady advance in the grade of teachers employed. The corps of teachers has improved greatly in attainments and in teaching ability. Very few schools now but are under control of teachers holding first-class certificates.

Trustees are becoming more vigilant, and discriminating in selection of teachers and exhibit in most cases very wise judgment in their selection, the only exception being occasionally, where a daughter or a cousin or a grandmother of one of the trustees is an applicant for the school.

A school worthy of special commendation is in District No. 51 (Perry), situated very conveniently on the M. and L. T. P. road, two miles south of Washington. The trustees are Patrick Tierney, John Mitchell and Harvey Keith. In 1894 the trustees erected a new and commodious school house, which was much needed. It is a very neat, attractive building with a portico the entire front, and the lot protected by a good fence; admirably lighted inside and equipped with all necessary appliances. Mr. Pat Maher, who was a trustee when the house was built, with Mr. John Mitchell, deserves praise for good management of the pecuniary affairs of the district. There is no debt in the district. The trustees evince admirable judgment in the selection of their teacher, Miss Chambers, who, in addition to scholarly attainments of a high order, is an excellent instructor and manager. She is very fertile in resources and understands the art of teaching. She arouses the attention and the interest of the scholars by constantly keeping before their minds objects very skillfully drawn upon the blackboard, illustrative of the lesson. I wish many of the younger teachers could see some of Miss Chambers' blackboard exercises, and the felicitous manner in which she presents before the children a series of illustrations which convey the required instruction and awaken fresh interest in the scholars continually. I am very anxious that all our teachers should abandon the old slavish adherence to text books and by all means leave the text book behind when a class comes forward to recite. How much more spirit and life in a recitation conducted by a teacher imbued with the subject and untroubled with it than to stand before a class with a lot of old dry dusty questions, answers to which scholars give like a row of parrots. There can not be any life in such a recitation. Teachers, let me urge upon you, leave the text book at home for diligent study when you get down to your evening's work preparatory for next day's recitation. Fill yourselves so full of the subjects which you are going to bring before your class that you will be able to charge each scholar and still have a surplus.

School district No. 17, Washington. This district is under control of Messrs. W. R. Gill, James Marshall and A. F. Wood, trustees, and they discharge the duties of their office faithfully. The old court house and for many years seminary building has been thoroughly renovated, newly furnished and equipped, requiring considerable outlay of money which has been supplied cheerfully by the residents of the district. Mr. T. V. Chandler is the teacher and is able to secure good attendance, the seats being all filled by a remarkably attractive looking class of children, presenting a very neat appearance.

Mr. Chandler seems to have the school under good control, and the scholars appeared deeply interested in their studies. There are too many small scholars and this renders it difficult for a teacher to grade his school economically in time and labor. The surroundings of this school are highly favorable to educational progress and advancement. You will not find elsewhere in the State, within the same area, so intelligent and cultivated a community, and having so many potencies for good, as in the Washington neighborhood. G. W. BLATTERMAN, Supt.

Almost every man in America has some digestive trouble. When men meet, the greeting usually is, "Well, how are you?" That develops health talk. The man who has no bowel or stomach trouble is almost a curiosity. Trouble is men take no care of themselves. They eat as though they had copper stomachs and bowels of brass. By and by, overworked nature rebels. Then comes headache, nervousness, bad blood, liver and kidney troubles. Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets furnish help for constipation and torpid liver, sick and bilious headache, dizziness, sour stomach, loss of appetite, indigestion, or dyspepsia, windy belchings, "heartburn," pain and distress after eating, and kindred derangements of the liver, stomach and bowels. The Bryan flag that was erected at Tuckahoe a week or so ago is still waving gracefully in the McKinley breeze, and "long may she wave." As it is made of "fast colors," I think it will still be here ready for the campaign in 1900.

IN MEMORY

Of little Flora, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Molen, who died Friday, November 6th, 1896.

Autumn is fading, and with it a little flower has faded away. She bore her sufferings patiently until God called her to a happier home. It is lonely without her. Her chair is ever vacant at the table, and her little footsteps cease to patter in the happy home. She just has left this world and her parents mourn for her. She has gone to a home where sorrow and pain is never known, and is happy in the bright land above where she can rest in peace.

ALL EYES ON KENTUCKY.

Governor Bradley's Announcement That the Vote Would be "Counted" For McKinley—What of the Bets?

[Enquirer.]

In betting circles intense interest is felt as to the determination of wagers on the result in Kentucky. It is estimated that half a million of dollars is at issue, and most of the stakeholders avow an intention to wait until the matter is settled beyond any possible dispute. If it goes into court, or appeal is made to any tribunal or body having jurisdiction in such contests, it may be months before the final decision is made. As the stakeholders can be made liable to either of the parties for the money wagered, they are naturally disposed to wait until the question is conclusively settled.

The Democrats claim that enormous frauds have been committed and declare that even after the State Board has announced the result they will take the proper means to remedy the wrong. Of course nothing is expected from this board except that it will decide in favor of the Republicans, Governor Bradley, the controlling member, having publicly announced in advance of any evidence or argument that the vote would be counted for McKinley. According to the present claims of Republicans, one Democratic elector has been chosen. If that result stands, a precedent for deciding the bets is already on record.

In 1892, when one Democratic elector was chosen in Ohio, it was decided that a person who wagered that Harrison would carry the State lost his money. Otherwise it was held that "carrying the State" meant receiving its entire electoral vote. This decision was upheld by sporting authorities, and bets were paid accordingly. Under the same ruling, if one party bet that McKinley would carry Kentucky, and the other that Bryan would carry the State, the electoral vote being divided, the bet would be declared off. If the bet was that McKinley would get more of the electoral votes, the man taking that end of the proposition would win, of course.

An interesting feature in connection with the betting on 50,000 Republican plurality in Ohio is that the decision may depend on the vote for Barr, the Populist elector, whom the Republicans insisted on keeping on the official ballot. Every vote cast for him was for Bryan, and must be added to the total received by the Democratic electors. It is thought that between 1,500 and 2,000 votes were cast for Barr.

FRANKFORT, Ky., November 9.—The official returns from each county in the late election are being received daily at the office of Secretary of State, but only about two-thirds of the returns have arrived. Until they all arrive the final count will not be made by the State Canvassing Board, and no one will know whether the McKinley plurality of 446 will be maintained or not.

Meantime the Democrats claim that one Democratic elector, W. B. Smith, is elected, and that this will make all bets on Kentucky a draw. A man who has a good big bet on the State asked a prominent Judge this morning if the bets would be declared a draw if Smith was elected, and he replied that two similar cases had been decided by the courts, and both decided in favor of a draw.

ANOTHER FIRE.

The Residence of Mr. Alfred Worick and Mr. Charles Plister the Scene of a Blaze Early This Morning.

Mr. Alfred Worick's residence on West Third street was badly damaged by fire between four and five o'clock this morning.

The building is a two-story brick with a one-story addition in rear. The flames were discovered shortly after four o'clock in the frame portion of the residence and seemed to have started near the pantry. The origin is a mystery, as the stove was some distance away, and the floor about the stove was not as badly damaged as in other parts of the building. The fire had a good start when discovered, and members of the family sleeping on the first floor hardly had time to save their clothing.

The frame portion of the building was almost completely destroyed and the rest of the house was badly damaged by the fire, smoke and water.

Mr. Worick had $1,200 insurance on the house which will probably cover the damage to the building. The furniture and household goods were insured for $200 which will not cover the loss. The insurance is in the London and Liverpool and Globe.

Before the fire was gotten under control the flames had spread to Mr. Charles Plister's residence adjoining on the east, and damaged it to the extent of about $200. Mr. Plister was fully insured.

A TEN-YEAR-OLD daughter of James Pierce was seriously hurt by a mule at South Portsmouth. The child was running along the road when the wind blew a shawl which she was wearing over her face and she ran against a mule. The mule kicked her and broke her jaw, knocked several teeth out and the mule's shoe severed the temporal artery on the side of her head.

THE C. and O. made some good runs in October. The two eastbound limited and the two westbound limited trains made an aggregate of 124 trips over the road between Cincinnati and Washington and New York City during the month. Terminals were reached late but eleven times out of the whole number of runs, and only once was a westbound connection missed during the month.

REPRESENTATIVES of the Royal Insurance Company, the Scottish Union and the Fire Association of Philadelphia were here Tuesday and adjusted the loss of the Central Hotel Company by the recent fire, at two-thirds the amount of insurance. The Royal had $1,000, the Scottish Union $2,000 and the Fire Association $1,000. The company also has $2,000 in the Connecticut, but this company has not been heard from yet. The Queen Insurance Company paid $450 in full for damage to bar stock, pool and billiard tables. The loss on the building has not been adjusted yet. The National Fire Insurance Company has adjusted the damage to Wells & Anderson's stable at $100.

While the work of the Young Men's Christian Association is a definite one—for young men only,—yet for reasons that are obvious the efficiency of such a broad and varied work is greatly increased by the valuable assistance along certain lines which the ladies of any community where the association is established can alone render. A large number of city and town associations through the country—more than 550 in all—have organized Women's Auxiliaries, or committees, who render invaluable aid to the work by furnishing the rooms and making them look attractive and home-like, by assistance at receptions and entertainments, and by using their influence for the advancement of the work generally. President Cox has just appointed the following ladies to act as a local committee: Mrs. Jos. H. Dodson, Chairman; Mrs. H. C. Sharp, Mrs. Holt Richeson, Miss Lizzie Trouts, Mrs. Samuel M. Hall, Mrs. R. A. Cochran, Miss Amy Phister. These ladies will meet on Thursday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock to organize and plan for their new work. As the one association is used constantly by the young men, it has been thought best to hold this meeting in a private home, and Mrs. Wm. Cox has kindly offered the use of her home for this purpose.

The monthly meeting of the association directors will be held this (Wednesday) afternoon at 4 o'clock. Mr. G. W. Blatterman has again generously offered the use of his office for the gathering. The committee on furnishing of the new rooms will report, and a financial budget, to include both current expenses and furnishings, will be adopted. Reports of one or two other committees are to be presented and important business will receive attention.

At several of the church meetings to-morrow (Thursday) evening, by kind invitation of the pastors, two or more delegates from the association membership will speak briefly, at each service, of definite work for young men as carried on by the Y. M. C. A. in this country.

THE SILVER MAN

Got the Laugh on His Fellow Employes Who Were Gold Bugs.

When the Newport Rolling Mill Company paid all its employes except several ardent supporters of Bryan in gold Saturday, the gold men made all manner of fun of the silverites, says the Enquirer. Ed. Carney was the special target for their attacks, but he made one of them pay dearly for his fun.

Carney said that the gold men had no cause to laugh, as he could buy more with his silver than they could with their gold.

This claim was challenged and a wager of $10 made. Monday Carney and a gold man went to the Cincinnati postoffice and Carney purchased $5 worth of postal cards, tendering in payment five silver dollars. The money was accepted without argument.

The gold man then ordered 500 postal cards and offered in payment a $5 gold piece. The gold piece was examined and weighed and discovered to be eight cents short weight, and the gold man was given but 492 postal cards.

Carney won his bet, and has had the grand laugh on his fellow ever since.

Interesting Meetings.

Miss Julia Emery, of New York City, Secretary of the Woman's Auxiliary of the Board of Missions of the Episcopal Church, with Miss Harrison, of Frankfort, Secretary for Kentucky, will arrive in Maysville this evening and be the guests of the Rev. Mr. Chapin. To-morrow, Thursday, these ladies will hold an informal conference with the ladies of the parish in regard to missionary work, in the guild room from 10 to 12 in the morning, and at 2 p. m. Miss Emery will give a public address in the church. This meeting will not be for women or members of the parish only; a most cordial invitation to all others to be present is extended. Miss Emery is an old acquaintance and friend of the rector.

Condensed Testimony.

Chas. B. Hood, Broker and Manufacturer's agent, Columbus, Ohio, certifies Dr. King's New Discovery has no equal as a cough remedy. J. D. Brown, Prop. St. James Hotel, Ft. Wayne, Ind. testifies that he was cured of a cough of two years standing, caused by la grippe, by Dr. King's New Discovery. B. F. Merrill, Baldwinville, Mass., says that he has used and recommended it and never knew it to fail and would rather have it than any other doctor, because it always cures. Mrs. Hemming, 222 E. 25th St., Chicago, always keeps it at hand and has no fear of croup, because it instantly relieves. Free trial bottles at J. James Wood's drug store.

STIRRED UP WALL STREET.

Mark Hanna Did By His Talk of Bimetallism.

NEW YORK, November 6.—Mark A. Hanna, through his interviews in this city, has stirred up the financiers, as will be seen by the following editorial from to-night's organ of the Wall street money changers, the New York Evening Post: "A conversation of our reporter with Mr. Hanna yesterday, which is confirmed by the report of the Sun, makes him say that 'the farmers and laborers in the Western cities' were won over 'by explaining to them that we stood on the St. Louis platform, which advocates bimetallism under an international agreement, and that we were not gold monometallists.' Now, the St. Louis platform was drawn before the Bryan platform, and it is a safe assumption that if it had been drawn after the Bryan platform, this passage would either have been omitted or materially altered. Nothing has done more to bring us to our present pass than the persistent maintenance of the belief that there is going to be an international conference at which the European nations will agree with us to establish and maintain a double standard. There is not the smallest reasons to expect any such thing."

An Important Difference.

To make it apparent to thousands, who think themselves ill, that they are not afflicted with any disease, but that the system simply needs cleansing, is to bring comfort home to their hearts, as a costive condition is easily cured by using Syrup of Figs. Manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Company only, and sold by all druggists.

ANOTHER good audience was present at the Christian Church last night. The sermon was an earnest plea to become followers of the Master, the discourse being based on the story of the young ruler. Preaching again to-night at 7 o'clock. The public cordially invited.

WHAT WOULD HAPPEN

If the Moon Should Get Tired and Undertake to Rest.

Under the condition set forth in the question, we must imagine that the moon would always be exactly over one spot of the earth's surface. At night, therefore, that part of the earth would always be illuminated, unless the position—which is most probable—would result in an eclipse; but the other portions of the earth would be in total darkness at night. The effect on navigation would be revolutionary. The phenomenon of the tides would practically cease. Consequently, many tidal rivers would run low constantly and flourishing ports go to ruin. Not only so, but the distribution of the water on the earth's surface would be seriously altered. If the moon stood still the waters on that side of the earth where the moon was stationed would rise in one huge mass, while the opposite side of the earth would have a smaller bulk. The waters, however, at the sides of the earth would practically disappear. This would undoubtedly mean that many portions of the earth now dry would be flooded, and vice versa. Not only so, but the shape of the planet would—to an outside observer—change. The solid portions would remain rigid, but the general contour would appear to be egg-shaped, the greater end being turned toward the moon, and the point away from it.

WOMEN who are weak and nervous, who have no appetite and cannot sleep, find strength and vigor in Hood's Sarsaparilla.

RECIPROCITY WITH CANADA.

Our Northern Neighbors Want the Treaty of 1854 Renewed.

MONTREAL, Nov. 11.—The statement made in New York by Hon. W. S. Fielding, Canadian minister of finance, that the Canadian government is going in for reciprocity with the United States in earnest, and that representatives will be sent to Washington shortly after McKinley's inauguration to negotiate a reciprocity treaty, creates much interest among business men of this city. The subject has now become a timely topic of discussion.

Hugh McLennan, a prominent grain merchant, said:

"I am heartily in favor of the renewal of the treaty of 1854, if it is possible to secure that, and I want to include privileges for both nations of coast and inland waters. I want it made possible for Canadian vessels to carry cargoes from one American port to another, and the same privilege to be extended to American vessels. The treaty of 1854 was certainly favorable to the two countries, and I do not believe the conditions of today would make any difference. If a new treaty is negotiated it should be as much as possible a repetition of the treaty of 1854. Give us a reciprocity treaty in natural products, with better coasting laws, and free canals, and we will be satisfied."

COL. WILLIAM E. POTTER DEAD

Well Known Lawyer of New Jersey and Prominent in Politics.

BRIDGETON, N. J., Nov. 11.—Colonel William E. Potter, one of the best known lawyers in New Jersey, died yesterday after a prolonged illness. Colonel Potter had been frequently mentioned in connection with the supreme bench of the state, and his friends recently tried to secure his appointment by Governor Griggs.

He was a graduate of Harvard law school and of Princeton college and served with distinction in the civil war. He was one of the six officers detailed to deliver the colors surrendered by Lee's army to Secretary Edwin M. Stanton, at Washington, May 1, 1865. He was a delegate to the Republican national conventions of 1865 and 1876 and an elector on the Garfield ticket in 1880.

OCTOBER FIRE LOSSES.

They Have Not Been as Great as They Were Last Year.

NEW YORK, Nov. 11.—The Journal of Commerce and Commercial Bulletin this morning says:

The fire loss of the United States and Canada for the month of October, as compiled from our daily records, shows a total of $3,993,000. This is a remarkable improvement over October's showing in 1895, when the total loss was $13,411,000.

The total for the first 10 months of 1896 exhibits a gratifying reduction in comparison with the figures for the same period of 1895.

Dr. Edward H. Parker Dead.

POUGHKEEPSIE, N. Y., Nov. 11.—Dr. Edward H. Parker, a prominent physician, died in this city yesterday. He was 73 years old. The lines were the opening verse of a poem, written 25 years ago, and they were selected by the widow of James A. Garfield as an inscription for the tombstone of the martyred president.

FARMERS IN SESSION.

Sixteenth Annual Meeting of the National Congress.

INDIANAPOLIS, Nov. 11.—The hall of the house of representatives was well filled yesterday at the opening session of the 16th Farmers' National congress of the United States. Nearly every state was represented and there was a considerable smattering of women delegates.

B. F. Clayton of Indianola, Ia., the retiring president, called the gathering to order, and the congress was welcomed in behalf of the state by Governor Matthews and of the city by Mayor Taggart. John M. Stahl of Chicago, Major Ryals of Georgia and others made responses. President Clayton then delivered his annual address.

The session will last four days. The first two days will be taken up largely with the reading and discussion of papers; the last two days with the discussion of and action of resolutions—by means of resolutions the congress expresses its wishes as to legislation.

Among the topics that will be discussed are: Conservatism of the farmer element; sunshine and shadow of farm life; farmers' wives—their needs and recreation; paying farms and happy homes; secretary of agriculture criticised; agriculture and currency questions; agriculture and education; the new woman; the middleman; irrigation; weather and crops; artificial fertilizers; production and prices.

The afternoon session began with the reading of a paper by Judge William Lawrence of Ohio, discussing means whereby the Farmers' National congress can become a great political power in aid of nonpartisan legislation. He urged thorough organization on behalf of the farmers in all sections and a co-operation on all questions of nonpolitical importance. He urged incidentally a restoration of the wool tariff.

His paper and thoughts met with general favor. One thing he especially urged was a fight to reduce the salaries of county officials as a means of lowering taxes.

At the conclusion of the discussion of Judge Lawrence's paper, John C. Offutt of Indiana offered a free coinage of silver resolution, which was immediately referred to the resolutions committee without action.

President Clayton then announced the various committees and the congress adjourned.

The committee on location met last night and has practically decided to recommend St. Paul as the next meeting place.

SUFFOCATED BY GAS.

An Old Man and Little Girl Dead and an Old Lady Dying.

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 11.—Louis Doerfel, aged 67, and Bertha Milla, aged 4, were suffocated by gas at the former's home, 2747 Darion street, last night. Magdalena Doerfel, the aged wife of the dead man, is hovering between life and death. They were found lying on the floor of the kitchen of the house by a daughter of the old couple, when she returned from work, and it is not known how the tragedy occurred.

It is supposed, however, that while Mrs. Doerfel was ironing her dress caught the stopcock of a gas stove in the room and turned on the deadly fluid. Doerfel had practically lost the sense of smell and his wife was suffering from a violent cold, so that neither could detect the presence of the gas in the room and were unaware of it until they toppled over.

With General Maceo in Pinar del Rio are the Cuban farmers and patriots from the rural districts. With General Aguirre in the province of Havana are many young officers and gentlemen of the best known families in the city of Havana. All alike, however, are devoted to Cuban liberty.

John R. McLean's Great Newspaper.

Without a single exception, there is beyond doubt no greater or more popular newspaper in the United States than the Cincinnati Enquirer; or a more successful publisher than its proprietor, Mr. John R. McLean.

The old-time prices for the Daily Enquirer have been maintained, and its circulation largely increased each year; hard times and cheaper journals failing to arrest its onward march and high appreciation of the public for its true worth and merit.

The Weekly Enquirer at beginning of the campaign year was offered at 50 cents a year, and its circulation increased by the addition of over 200,000 new subscribers; the most substantial and coveted testimonial a publisher could desire.

When asked for the secret of such success, Mr. McLean frankly answers: The Enquirer has no opinions to force upon its patrons, it simply prints the facts and tells the truth that the reader may form his own opinions. By maintaining the price of the paper, more news and greater variety can be furnished, and every class of business interests catered to, which a cheaper journal cannot afford.

The very liberal support given the Enquirer by the public at large, makes it incumbent upon the management to serve it faithfully with zeal and enterprise in minor matters as well as those of greater magnitude.

Gladness Comes

With a better understanding of the transient nature of the many physical ills which vanish before proper efforts—gentle efforts—pleasant efforts—rightly directed. There is comfort in the knowledge that so many forms of sickness are not due to any actual disease, but simply to a constipated condition of the system, which the pleasant family laxative, Syrup of Figs, promptly removes. That is why it is the only remedy with millions of families, and is everywhere esteemed so highly by all who value good health. Its beneficial effects are due to the fact, that it is the one remedy which promotes internal cleanliness, without debilitating the organs on which it acts. It is therefore all important, in order to get its beneficial effects, to note when you purchase, that you have the genuine article, which is manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Co. only, and sold by all reputable druggists.

If in the enjoyment of good health, and the system is regular, then laxatives or other remedies are not needed. If afflicted with any actual disease, one may be commended to the most skillful physicians, but if in need of a laxative, then one should have the best, and with the well-informed everywhere, Syrup of Figs stands highest and is most largely used and gives most general satisfaction.
